

Join the OSMRE Semester Internship Program

Looking for an internship that is more than filing papers and getting coffee?

Semester Internship Terms

Fall (15 weeks): Sept. – Dec.
Spring (15 weeks): Jan. – May
Summer (10 weeks): May – Aug.

Semester Internship Locations

Washington, DC; Pittsburgh, PA;
Denver, CO; Knoxville, TN; and more

Eligibility

The OSMRE Semester Internship Program encourages college juniors and seniors, and recent graduates, to apply. Individuals with degrees in the following, and related, fields will find the most alignment with our internship positions: Communications, Community Development, Environmental Science, Geographic Information Systems, Geology, Political Science, Public Administration, and Public Policy.

All OSMRE Semester Internships are full time and Semester Interns receive a weekly living allowance.

The OSMRE Semester Internship Program will let you:

- Address key issues such as community impoverishment and environmental degradation
 - Research issues that make a significant impact across multiple communities
 - Gain real work experience with a federal regulatory agency
